Hello Sara,
Well, imagine
finding me here,
We had a lot of fun and our legs got a lot of exercise in
Pep band this year!
All I'll say is you're a neat kid and you'll be sorry you aren't taking band next year!
Change your mind,
please!
Love,
Karen

Sara
Hi.
Hope you are as cute and you are now.

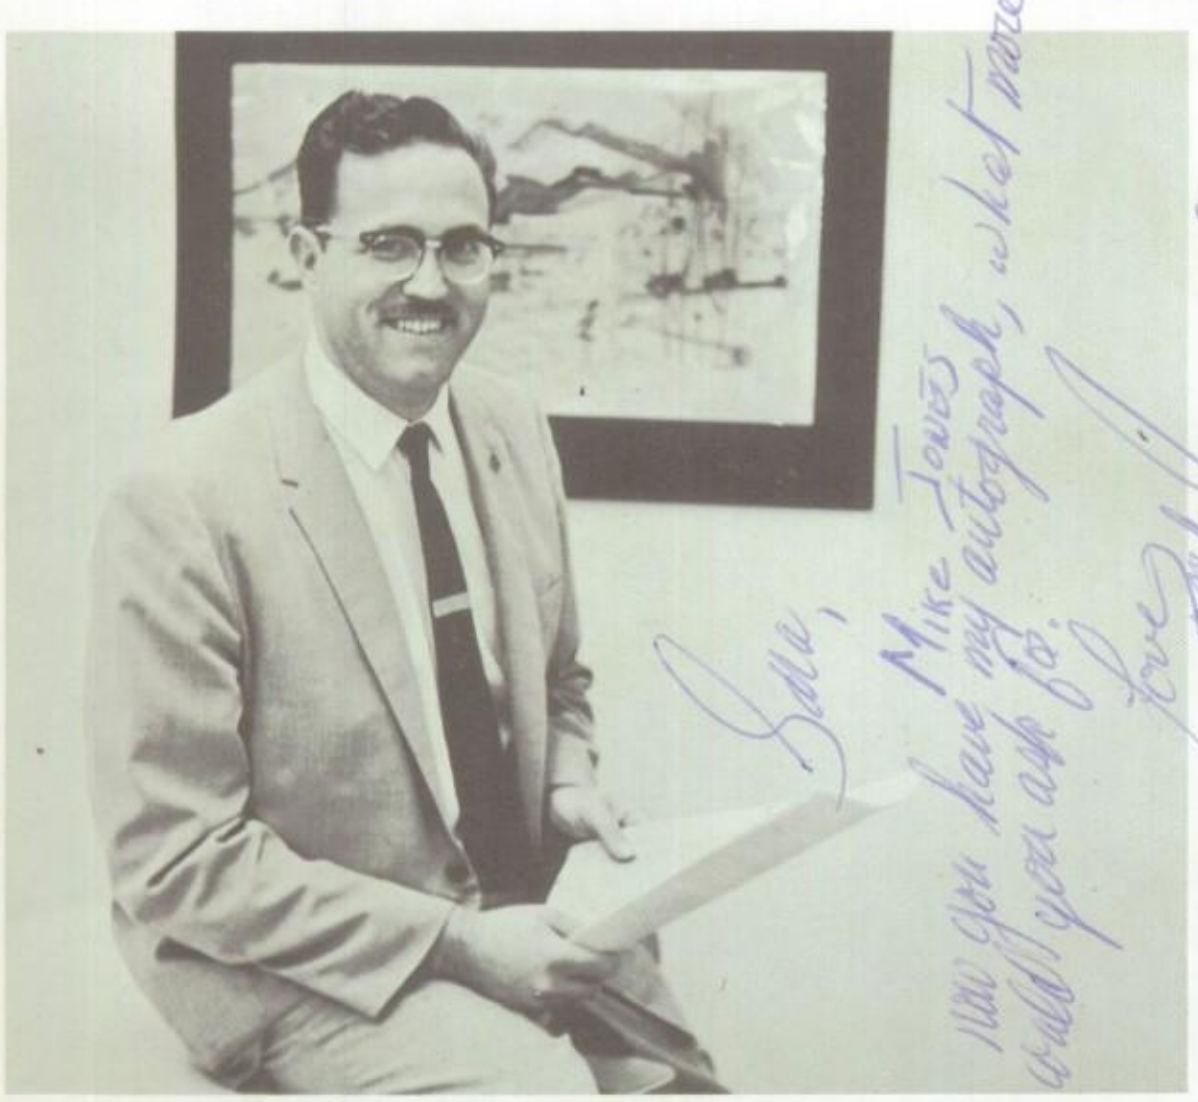
Dedication . . . To Mr. Donald Cameron



'Inspired Our Hearts and Minds'

YOU DEDICATED yourself to our goals and ambitions. You listened to our hopes when all others turned away. You showed us the promise of the future and helped us learn the past. You inspired our hearts and minds to grasp the opportunities of the present. In your quiet grin and friendly eyes, we saw the faith to give us strength. In your voice we heard the challenge of a new school.

When we remember our first year at Western, we hear the laughter in assemblies and see the tears of joy at the State Basketball Tournament. We think of new friends, among them we cherish you most dearly. Your friendship was cheerful and unselfish. The time has now come for us to show you our love and appreciation. Our senior year is closest to our hearts and since you will ever be dear to us, we dedicate our yearbook to you. With the annual, we dedicate a part of our hearts to you who helped us look to the horizon in faith. May God always bless you and help you remember Western High School's first year fondly. For that year and this are dedicated to the principles you taught us, Mr. Donald Cameron.

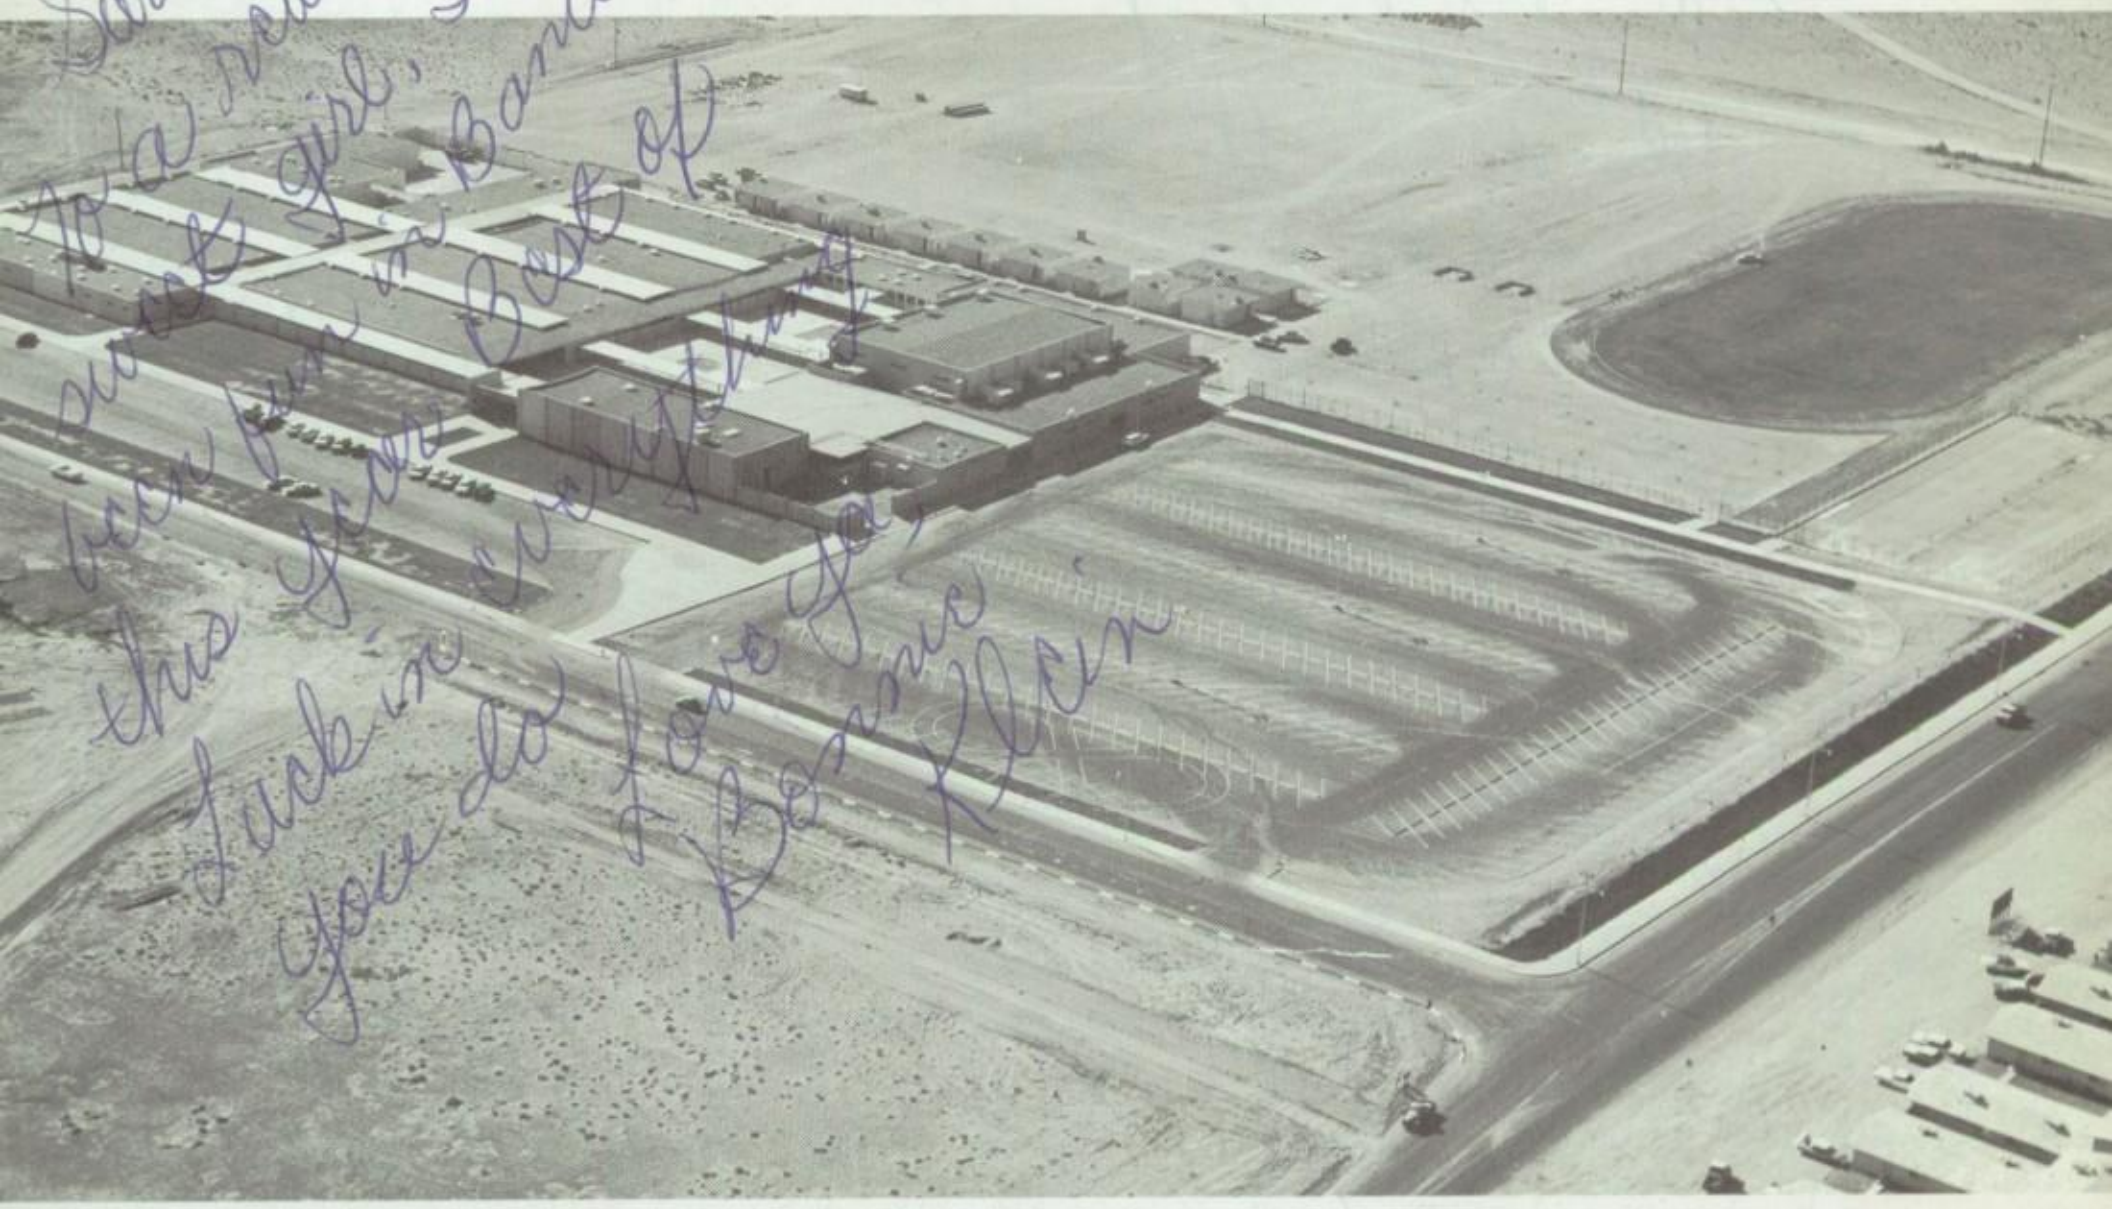
Activities Represent Sound and Silence

Sound And Silence



SILENCE is an unheard sound echoing within the young mind and soul. Whispers of inspiration and ideals are born from quiet thought that prompts a Senior to maturity. Silence recalls memories of the past with its lessons and its laughter . . . ideals speaking from the hearts and lips of great men . . . a future beckoning us to challenge the customs of time . . . moments of planning and praying, but most of all, pondering life and its mysteries. To Seniors approaching adulthood, silence, and its thoughts are sounds . . . sounds of wisdom that answers prayers and guide lives.

SOUND is a creation of silent thought formed from ideals, the tangible born from the intangible. No lips can form great words without thought . . . wise words are the result of past learning warmed by the great ideas of love, hope, and faith . . . sounds of a Senior year become memories . . . a scurrying pen finishing the year's final exam . . . athletic events ringing with cheers . . . swirling of music at the yearbook dance . . . swishing gowns, unrolling diplomas, and the haunting tune of "Pomp and Circumstance," which signifies the end of a way of life. Sounds echoing in the young mind, ringing forever as memories. Yet, there are silent sounds, too. The quiet cry raised by every student in the silence of graduation, when each prays to himself for strength.

A YEAR OF SOUND AND SILENCE, thought and action. Silence creates sound. Sound lives eternally as memory, and gives life to silence. Sound and silence speak to the student, echoing through the year, leading us through life.

This yearbook has been printed in honor of Western's first graduating class, truly a model of Sound and Silence.

SOUND AND SILENCE . . . A most intriguing theme for this year's "Epitaph." There is plenty of both at Western High School and I'm happy to be part of this organization. The roar of the crowd at an athletic contest, the spirited reaction of students at assemblies, lively classroom discussions play an important part of "sound" in our education. Study, thinking, concentration and much of our learning is dependent upon silence. Both ingredients have been well blended to make the 1962-63 school year a banner one at Western.

PHYSICAL FITNESS consists of training the mind as well as the body. Gymnastic instructors created the desire for activity and sportsmanship in their students' minds. STUDENTS REALIZING the treasure of words, the lessons of literature. Our lips uttered famous Shakespearian lines of death and humor; our hands and minds created poetry. Student Council Gives Students Voice in Government

STUDENT COUNCIL, newly formed this year, gave each student a voice in school politics. Mr. Gjeruld Thompson and Miss Kala Gresky ably and imaginatively advised this active group.

Student Council undertook and completed many projects this year. The "Home of the Warriors" sign in front of the school was a council project, as were the trophy case and the Academic and Athletic Halls of Fame.

Welcoming Committee Aids New Students

WELCOMING COMMITTEE was an addition to the Student Council this year. Carolyn Miller, Student Body Girls' Vice-President, served as committee chairman.

Purpose of the committee was to acquaint new students with the school, the rules, and help them make friends. A member of the committee was made directly responsible for each new student who came to Western during the year. Their responsibility was to help the student adjust to Western High School, her traditions and her activities.

Relations Committee Promotes Friendly Relations Student – Faculty

STUDENT - FACULTY RELATIONS COMMITTEE, headed by Monte Bunker, Student Body Secretary, endeavored to promote better understanding and co-ordination of activities between the student body and the faculty.

Through student-faculty co-operation the All-School Carnival was sponsored. Such a committee lent youthful energy to mature ideals.

Rally and Traditions Board Incites School Spirit

RALLY AND TRADITIONS BOARD, one of the most active groups on campus, was guided by Charlie Davey, Student Body Boys' Vice-President.

This committee was one of great importance to the school, as its main function was to form traditions which Western's students will uphold and honor forever.

ASSEMBLY COMMITTEE was composed of a group of representative students from each class who met with an advisory board of teachers to plan and to discuss programs for our fine assemblies.

Without the efforts of this fine group, we would be unable to have the interesting variety of assemblies which we have.

H. R. Reps Represent Students in School Government

THIS GROUP of students gave their time as representatives of their fellow students in Student Council meetings. They were chosen by their third period classes to act in this capacity. Council representatives were very active in this, the first year Western had such a group. They sold the Western High pins to the members of their homerooms, read Daily Bulletins to their classmates, and related all Student Council happenings to the members of their homerooms.

H.R. REPS — First row, from left, Dean Crothers, Max Dickman, Dan Ludwig, Mike Leavitt, Jon Wunderlich, Lana McCormick, Daisy Gainer, Dick Pyatt, Denny Robeson, Ron Morgan, Bill Rhinehart. Second row, Stephanie Stertic, Claudia Thompson, Leslie Poynter, Jan Bruner, Susan Goldstein, Linda McCormick, Adrienne Lowenthall, Louise Carlson, Shirley Hearth, Donna Hill, Adrian Laughlin, Pam Walters, Marilyn Craighead. Third row, James Mathis, Gary Naseef, Mark Robinson, Robert George, Gary West, Gordon Carter, Brian Boggs, Jackie Dill, Mike Apodoca, Greg Gordon, Janette Wills, Loretta Chesson. Fourth row, Dennis Petarde.

Epitaph Staff Records School Year

EPITAPH EDITORS — Judy Gianoulakis, Editor; Bill Gang, Assistant Editor.

EPITAPH STAFF, headed by Editor Judy Gianoulakis, worked diligently all year to compile a record of memories. Various section heads assisted in meeting the deadlines. Through patient planning and careful thought, the book was published and distributed at the yearbook party.

In future years, their work will echo as a precious memory in many students' thoughts. This year, it exemplifies the energy and efficiency of a group of students.

IT'S LIKE THIS — Senior Editor David Jamison and Advisor Ross Tucker check copy.

STAFF OF THE WAR WHOOP devoted much of their time and energy to keep the WHS Student Body informed of current events on or concerning our campus and students. The Editor's column stated opinions on happenings of importance to the students. The Students' Corner served as a weather vane of school opinion. The ever-popular Western Whispers was once again a conglomeration of student social activities, which were also covered in the new Senior column, restricted to news of interest to the Seniors.

Staff gained experience in this year of publishing a student newspaper, and much enjoyment from the cameraderie which can be found only among those who share a common responsibility.

Spirit, Incorporated

FIVE ENTHUSIASTIC VOICES joined this year in leading Western High School through a vigorous athletic campaign. Their minds were ever quick to find new ideas; a twist in cheering, forming pyramids, and new chants and songs. Their actions were graceful and precise while exhibiting energy and determination that stirred enthusiasm within us. Greater still was the untiring, yet unseen devotion in their hearts that urged them to give their best for Western High School. Five voices, five hearts, five cheerleaders made us proud of their representation and helped us raise our voices and give our hearts for our school.

SPIRITED junior varsity Cheerleaders, led by Bonnie Hayes, directed students who attended JV games in victory chants guaranteed to spur Warrior teams on to victory, and strike fear into the hearts of even the most stalwart foes. These five vivacious girls were chosen by the student body to represent them at athletic events, and they fulfilled the hopes of the students in every respect.

MRS. ANN HANSEN

FIGHTING SPIRIT of the Warriors was personified at all athletic events by two talented girls. They gave unselfishly of their time and energy that our school mascot could have a real meaning for the student body. The student body chose the girls who best fitted the task of representing the Western Warrior, and were not disappointed by their choice. These mascots aided the cheerleaders in boosting school spirit at all games and rallies.

WESTERN'S FIRST Supreme Court was organized and became active during the school year. The court was called upon to act as mediator in many interesting cases. Infringement of school rules and traditions was the major cause of court action, but judges were called upon to settle several law suits!

Each class was represented by a student judge, whom they chose in an open election. These responsible students were headed by Senior Tom DeMarco who served as Chief Justice. The Court functioned as a regular court does, and all students who were requested to appear before the bench were given summons, delivered by the Attorney General.

Hello Dance Begins Year

STUDENT COUNCIL sponsored a "Hello Dance" this year to welcome students into Western High School. Name tags were worn during the affair so new students might meet as many people as possible. A fine start for the new year, students found new friendship as well as enriching old relationships.

Freshmen Sponsor Two Big Dances

A FIDDLE SQUEAKED, a foot began tapping in time with the music, and years rolled back as Western High School's Barn Dance began. The Freshman Class, in sponsoring the dance, had recreated a spirit of the past when neighbors joined one another to socialize at the local barn. Couples clad in jeans and patches kicked up their heels and enjoyed themselves. Each one will remember the night they gathered for a Barn Dance.

Seniors Share Privilege

"SENIORS ONLY" the advertisements read. As Seniors gathered for the Senior Mixer, they entered the "Land of Television." The television characters on the walls watched the parade of frolicking Seniors — there was Beany and Cecil, Raid chasing bugs, Mr. Tooth Decay and Happy Tooth, and even someone posing as "What's my Line?" While the Seniors enjoyed each other, they established a tradition for years to come.

Christmas Dance Displays Festive Spirit

THE CROSSFIRES . . . in Action.

SANTA CLAUS wished Western High School students a Merry Christmas this year. Invited by the Senior Class Sponsors, Santa appeared at the Christmas Ball. Couples shared holiday happiness all evening as they danced around a Christmas tree to the strains of a live band. Santa's arrival was only a climax to a wonderful night of Holiday joy and Western enjoyment.

Adorn "Sweetheart Ball"

DON SYLVESTER AND PEGGY TAYLOR, robed in red velvet with shining crowns upon their heads, reigned over a kingdom of soft moonlight and fragrant roses. Their subjects attended the coronation in semi-formal dress and danced softly while Cupid smiled down upon them.

A live band supplied pleasant strains of song to lure sweetheart couples into the land of love. Diligent work with an artistic flair had formed this heavenly creation to be visited for a short time. As the cloud of beauty vanished and the swirling sounds faded, memories remained. Visions of moonlight and roses will always mark with sentimental energy Valentine's Day at Western High School.

(The Happy Days)

FRENCH GARDENS provided a lovely backdrop this year for the French Club's annual Mardi Gras. Careful planning and prodigious work created an island of French taste and an aroma of Parisian gaiety. A live band, the Vibratones, serenaded couples with soft and slow rhythm. Various entertainment was provided by club members and interested persons.

Toward the end of the evening, the king and queen of the Mardis Gras were honored. Sam Pizzo and Ann Johnston were escorted to their thrones amid applause from the audience. There, the royalty watched each person who attended grasp some of the laughter and romance that have filled France for centuries. For a time the music and gay chatter was real in their ears and then the enchantment and excitement faded. The Mardi Gras was over. Yet, the sound of it will ever remain in the hearts of French Club members as memories will cling to Western High.

PETER CHASE — "Let me entertain you!"

Sadie Hawkins Dance Provides

"Get serious about this, Pa. This may be the only picture we ever get took."

WESTERN'S CAMPUS was transformed for one day into Dogpatch. The affair was sponsored by the Junior Class and allowed the girls to chase down their favorite boy and capture him for a night. The dance offered a true glimpse of rural atmosphere as comic strip characters adorned the wall and a kissing booth served interested individuals.

"Marrying Sam" provided a marriage ceremony for a small price. Couples were the main attraction with their cut-off pants and baggy clothes. Rustic romance was encouraged by the delightful tones of the Teen-Beats. Simplicity of decoration and dress prevailed, yet it could not hamper the enjoyment of the occasion. It only instilled greater joy into the hearts of all and made the spring semester occasion more memorable.

"Look what I ketched me!"

"Please, I'd rather do it myself!"

Glimpses of Rural Life

"Is the coast clear? I'd hate to meet up with your Pa!"

"Aw, come on! I didn't want my old picture took, anyhow.' "

"We just got hitched, see?"

"Ain't nothin' like a good woman and a full tummy."

Junior Class Exhibits Talent

PARTICIPATING IN scene from "Bye Bye Birdie" are Billy Irwin, Pat Mors, Carole Dively, Enid De Pasquale, Sam Pizzo, Jim Merritt, Chuck Kenerson, Steve Kopels, Margie Haddad, Tarina Kirkeeng, Clyde Doyle, Nancy Moll, Gretchen Goodwin, and Kathy Bowers.

AS THE SOMEWHAT eccentric looking girl entered the gym with her "talent machine," the first class assembly began. Weeks of hard work refining the talents of eager Juniors had prepared this assembly for presentation. The result was an hour filled with moments of laughter and of striking talent.

The planning and patience of Floyd Smith created an entertaining vocal troup called the "Starlighters."

Three Sea Sons sincerely tried to harmonize while adding humor to the skit. Popular Junior boys gracefully contributed a gay ballet to the program, and a take-off on Bye-Bye Birdie climaxed the whole assembly. The Junior Class led by the capable president, Pam Walters, showed its ability to assume responsibility of school leadership by producing a delightful mixture of seriousness and gaiety.

GRACEFULLY NOW — Beauties participating in the Boys' Ballet are Tom Bishop, Barry Lagan, Jim Merritt, Chuck Kenerson, Steve Kopels, Dave Spurlock, Bruce Boles, Bill Rhinehart, and Clyde Doyle.

Student Council Honors Mr. Thompson

HE SPEAKS — "I'll never forget this school."

AS THE DRUMS ROLLED, a Senior girl stepped in front of a microphone, and pointing at the man seated before her, announced, "This is your life, Mr. Gjeruld Thompson." Before him, an assembly was presented in his honor, produced by Carolyn Miller and the Student Council. When the skit had ended, each class and many organizations presented him with a parting gift and some appropriate words. The Senior class who had always remained his favorite, rose in unison and heralded him in song. Mr. Thompson remained speechless. Finally, he told the Student Body, "I will never forget this school." The intangible qualities that he always had given unselfishly to every student of understanding, devotion, and love, were now revealed to him. Through the music and our words we attempted to express ourselves, but it was impossible. Our feelings must always remain quiet with gratitude, until someday, through our actions we become as fine an example to others as he had been to us.

STAN STAHL composed all music accompanying the assembly and, also directed select band members through various and difficult pieces.

"CONGRATULATIONS SON!"

BABY GERRY storms into the world!

Choir Voices The Spirit of Christmas

BLENDED VOICES brought the joy, sacredness, and everlasting sentiment of Christmas to Western High School. Through the combined efforts of choir students and their director, Mrs. Marjorie Dickinson, the splendor of the holiday season filled the annual Christmas assembly. Charlie Davey, Kim Wolfe, Tommy Rittman, Donna Stickler, Linda Sims, Jeanine Burlin, and Donald Schroeder stepped into the solo spotlight during the presentation while Bruce Jones played the organ and Bob Andrews played the piano. Dick Whittaker and Larry Green ably explained the significance of each vocal arrangement while adding interest with Biblical quotations.

Well-prepared and well-delivered, the choir assembly filled each listener with a deeper understanding for music. Beneath the notes there lay a deeper meaning, however, the purpose of revealing the true beauty of Christmas in which lies the soul of mankind.

Band Entertains Through Instrumentals

FLOATING STRAINS of serious tone, and novel notes of swinging rhythm adorned the annual Band assembly. Cleva Coston spritely soloed on her piccolo as she played "Little Brown Jug." Other selections played were excerpts from Li'l Abner, and pieces of classical, modern, and novel arrangement. Student conducters rose to exhibit talents of Western High School's music students. The Student Body responded to each mood painted by the musicians in vivid tune.

When the assembly had ended, pupils were once more aware not only of the skill needed for musical endeavor and the beauty flowing from its performance, but also of the work and worry dedicated to the creation of every lovely sound.

Adept Auctioneer Sells Students

20th Century slavery? I like it!

ROGER GRAYSON donned a red hat and country clothes to attempt to talk students into supporting their cheerleaders through a slave sale. Popular students were selected from each class and sold at auction as Roger dapperly described. Donna Weaver and Julie Ousley discovered their masters to be Freshman Class boys, while Garry Waite was bought by Senior Girls. Freshmen Kenny Koerwitz and Christine Soto, Sophomores Pat Salome and Garry Waite, Juniors Gretchen Goodwin, Jody Bonnet, and Tom Mumford, and Seniors Roy Brewer and Danny Ludwig also convinced other students to contribute their pay checks and lunch money for a little fun. All slaves were given various tasks: selling kisses, giving dance exhibitions, and carrying books. Sounds of an old-fashioned auction, created through the spirit of an eager school, gave financial assistance to Varsity Cheerleaders and enthusiastic enjoyment to students.

Sold to The fellow in The green tie!

Drama Department added a note of dramatic genius to our school by presenting "Curious Savage" in November and the "Taming of the Shrew" in March. Guided by the talent and patience of Mrs. Ann Hansen, they participated in the Clark County Drama and Forensics meet and worked in educational programs. Their hard work and training gave new meaning to the spoken word and new significance to gestures and actions. Through their ability, they created in us a deeper love for acting and its behind-the-scenes preparation.

"MY HAND is ready, may it do him ease."

"VILLAIN I say, knock me here soundly."

Yes, Ardis, There's A Test Today!

SCHOOL LEADERSHIP was accepted ably by an energetic class this year. Though greatly handicapped due to its new birth, the 300 Seniors worked hard for a glorious graduation, a sentimental Senior Ball, and well-arranged assembly. Through various money-raising projects such as their mammoth car-wash, they raised funds for various activities. Long after they leave, their footsteps will echo in our hallways as the traditions and memories will remain engraved in our hearts and thoughts.

Juniors Look Back on Exciting Year

"I propose a toast!"

"What's so funny, Jim?"

"... And, furthermore."

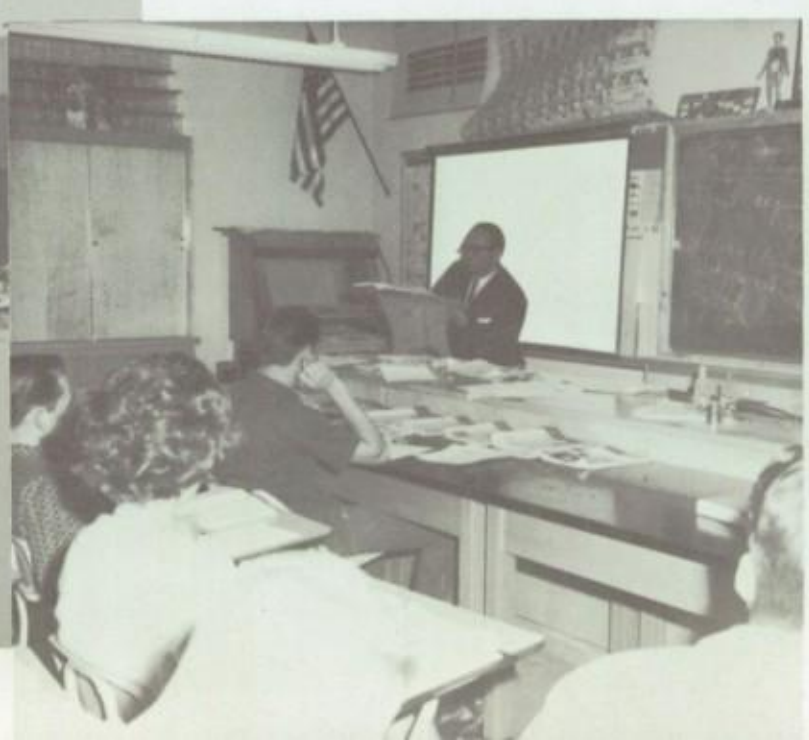
ONE OF THE BUSIEST classes on campus prepared this year to take upon themselves the leadership of the school. The Juniors held a car wash in which they generously donated the proceeds to aid the March of Dimes and as it was such a success they later sponsored another for their own benefit. Their assembly urged other classes to display their talents before the Student Body, and a booth in the School Carnival evidenced their active school spirit.

As a final activity, the Juniors presented an outstanding Junior Prom in honor of the Seniors. At this gathering the Seniors passed the responsibilities of their last year to the underclass. Each Senior knew that his place would be capably filled by a Junior and each Junior knew he and his class had proved their ability and willingness.

"When shall we three meet again?"

Terry's so clever.

"... And this is what?"



"It says right here. . ."

Sophomores Sponsor Sweetheart Ball

The wild stampede.

Birds of feather?

"What excuse can we use today?"

"Fire drill, anyone?"

SOPHOMORES HAD A YEAR of both play and planning. The class sponsored three after-game dances, raising enough money to sponsor other class activities. The roller skating party was a rollicking success and in their class party they shared their memories of a wonderful year. At the Hat Hop, everyone came arrayed with various kinds of hats, while participating in dance contests. Through their diligence and creative ability they produced one of the most successful dances of the year, the "Sweetheart Ball."

"This is a temporary classroom?"

Youngest Class Adds Echoing Exuberance

UNTIRING ENTHUSIASM and never-ending activity characterized the youngest class of Western. Through the lasting leadership of its officers, Freshmen eagerly helped the school in spirit and the patient planning behind every project. It was their diligence that decorated the goal posts in red and blue, and their creativity that cultivated a striking school planter. Realizing that three years of study and social activity remained for them in high school, their minds were constantly forming new ideas which laid the foundation for a successful class.

THERE ARE SECRETS of the centuries to solve; there are worlds of wonder to probe in life's chemistry. Young chemists joined this year in the common desire to search matter and discover its mysteries. Careful contemplation aided them in creating gunpowder. Other experiments enabled them to complete and reduce certain compounds to a natural form. Field trips were taken in order to encourage interest in the field as a future. Thoughts encouraged by interest spurred chemists to investigation.

YOUNG SCIENTISTS began their journey of exploring through unified interest this year. Investigating the fundamentals of physical science, they discovered the fantasy of life. Their study covered the growth of plants, animals, and living substances. They prepared a solid foundation for future science work through eager learning.

MASTERING machines to bring knowledge and enjoyment to Western High School was the big job of the AV Club. Members of this club supplied sound for dances, movies at lunch, and tape recorders for classroom instruction. These students grew skilled in presenting the means for stirring thought to motivation.

MEMBERS of the Varsity and Junior Varsity band created greater spirit among students by their faithful attendancy at games and assemblies. Their talents rang still louder by their excellent ratings in state and out-of-state competition. Mastering a wide variety of selections, they performed concerts as well as our fight song. Their instruments were the first to play our Alma Mater. Notes of pride and perfection, sounds of song and spirit, echoed this year as Western High School's band represented their school in musical praise.

TWO ADVANCED choral groups highlighted Western High School's musical year. A'Cappella's 85 members represented their school in city-wide activities and state-wide competition. Their mixed voices rose splendorously during our Christmas assembly, performing the same selections as they had earlier recorded. Glee Club's limited girl membership of 65, performed throughout the city with perfection. Both groups sung Western High School's pride and spirit as well as their own. They became a part of the voice that expresses leadership of our school by active participation.

Intelligence combined with force of oratory created a foundation upon which Forensic students performed this year. Their search for speaking perfection took them on trips to Weber, Utah, Tempe, Arizona, and the state tournament at Reno. They studied the resolution of a Western Common Market and adequately presented arguments in favor and against the idea. Hard study and intense research presented in well-planned speech, increased the interest of the year for these students and represented our school proudly throughout the West.

Initiating a new club sport at Western High School, interested young athletes participated in wrestling. They chose titles for themselves and entertained audiences during noontime and during half-times of some home basketball games. While learning new holds and techniques, then competing amid a cheering crowd, they learned a more important lesson as members found the true value of fine sportsmanship and healthful exercise.

Third row, Sam Houston, John Whitmore, Mike Brown, John Banks, Stanley Newman, Jerry Sullivan, Greg Vigoren, Audrey Flanagan, Kandee Kaye, Jeanie Stewart, and Aurgie Smith.

MUSICALLY OUTSTANDING boys and girls combined under patient supervision to lend harmony to our year. Music stems from knowledge and careful practice, thus these students found that a song becomes rich through hard work. Their musical notes graced our assemblies and sang their praises throughout the area as they represented us. Truly, they exhibited the success which comes from thought and talent.

Club Skills Future Draftsmen

MASTERING THE LINE, the angle, students created basic designs for architecture. Through their meticulous plans and blueprints they constructed model buildings. They offered their services to the school for any construction projects and at Thanksgiving members raffled two turkeys. Their organization worked forward toward the future and a successful career. As rising architects their contributions will someday stand among the world's fine buildings and their year of basic learning will remain in memory.

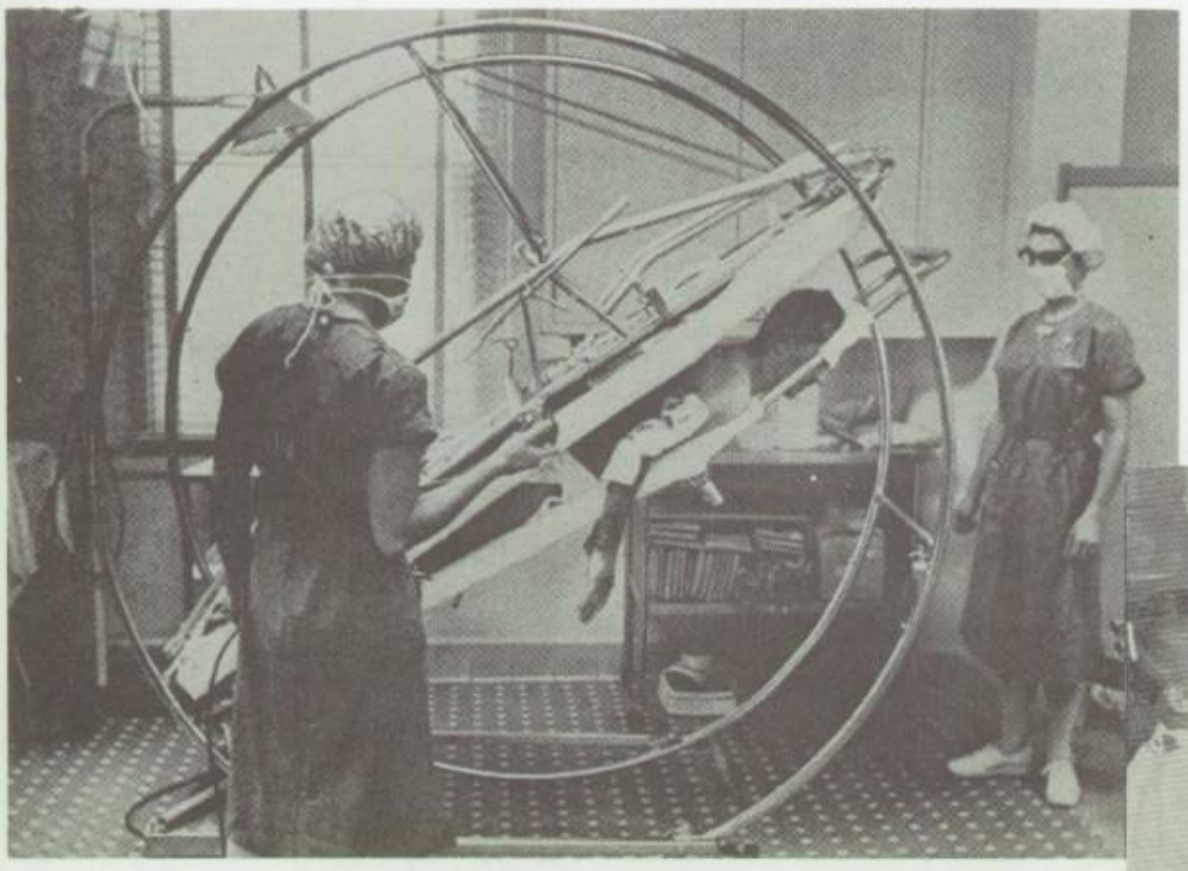
PARTICIPATING IN the honored profession of Medicine, an elite group of students studied its basic fundamentals. Their life goal is devotion to others, thus they had to study the treatment of others' minds and bodies. They learned that a kind word of understanding can be as healing as a professional diagnosis. Many lessons are yet to be learned, but their profession will rise from the basic roots of patient study and devoted service.



These two candids represent hospital scenes that Pre-Med Club members saw and will someday take part in their life's course.

Twenty-two Senior girls highlighted their final year of school by helping others through Quasantz. Mr. Donald O'Callahan served as an advisor, and the girls in turn contributed funds to the Juvenile Home. They assisted the blind, Heart Fund, and Cancer Society, while supporting a Korean orphan. As a club they set an example of civic leadership for adults and teenagers to follow and as individuals they were leaders of the school. Their responsibility does not end in a closing school year for their unselfish giving will continue in future life. In turn, the ideals they uphold remain for us to follow for their memory urges us to greater unselfish action.

THE SOUND OF discussion seeped outside the student council room. Within the blue and scarlet doors, weekly meetings were held in order to direct the school's activities. In the front of the room, six student body officers presided in unbiased consideration.

A vote is called, and the school is given a "Home of the Warriors" sign. A motion is made and the Supreme Court becomes effective; the school planters are planned. Committees for the handbook, school carnival, and student calendars become active. The school's second year blossomed into the busiest of any school in the area.

On the pages of the school scrapbook deeds are recorded to assist future officers. Their contribution echoes in the memories of students, also. While their ideas conducted our year, their voices were clearly heard as representatives of our school. As they go to face their future, they leave behind their deeds as words of counsel, and the words to guide our deeds in sound and silence!

Exchange Student Finds New Friends

Nasreen Sadiq (left) of Pakistan is Western High's first foreign exchange student. Nasreen is the guest of Sandy Greer during her stay in Las Vegas.

Nasreen points to her new home on a map of Nevada.

Dear Students,

It has always been my desire to come to America, but I never imagined myself getting this opportunity. Through the efforts of Mr. Beitz, the student council, the faculty members and the whole student body, my wish was fulfilled.

Being at Western High has been an experience which I will not forget.

I sincerely thank all of those who have helped make my stay a successful and pleasant one. I feel honored to have been a member of the Western High student body. Since this experience has been a happy one for me, I only wish the year could have been longer.

Thank you,

Nasreen Sadiq

Nasreen is greeted by Student Body President Roger Wyma and Principal Willard Beitz.

Nasreen,

Your friendship during this year enriched our lives. The joy of companionship once shared can span the distance of miles and time. Your friendly smile and cheerful words helped us realize the many areas of understanding between us. We, the student body, remind you that we will always remain your friends as we remember our happy experiences and common bonds.

GIRLS' STATE — Judy Gianoulakis (left), Laura Holmes.

YOUNG LEADERS learned this past summer about patriotic leadership. By forming political parties and holding elections, future citizens established governments at city and state levels. Through practical experience, these students discovered fundamentals America was founded on and that insure its successful future.

National Merit Finalists brought honor to themselves and their school by placing nationally in difficult competition. Stan Stahl, John Winfrey, Jon Wunderlich and Paul Gill were honored this year for their intelligence and ability.

SUPERIOR STUDENTS were selected from the junior and senior classes to study current controversies and express their views with other schools. From the Sun Youth Forum four of these leaders were chosen to express the panels' conclusions to the public. Honored in such a way were Peter Chase, George Kincer, Chris Gresham, and Roger Wyma, who combined thought with oratory while representing our school proudly.

PAUL GILL AND WARREN MILLER, participating in a national current events contest, sponsored by Time Magazine, took the required examination and received outstanding scores. Besides the satisfaction of receiving national honors, the boys were awarded an outstanding set of encyclopedias. Both young men served as examples of how daily perception of current events can add new richness and reward to a life. The examination also proved to government students the necessity of being aware of current happenings in our fast-moving world.

TEN STUDENTS from each high school in the county competed for the Elks Leadership Scholarship. They were judged upon their contribution to the community as leaders. Chris Gresham was selected as the winner for the girls, while Roger Wyma received runner-up award in the category for boys. The Elks honored the many leaders who will form the future of our community and our nation, through their ideals and active leadership.

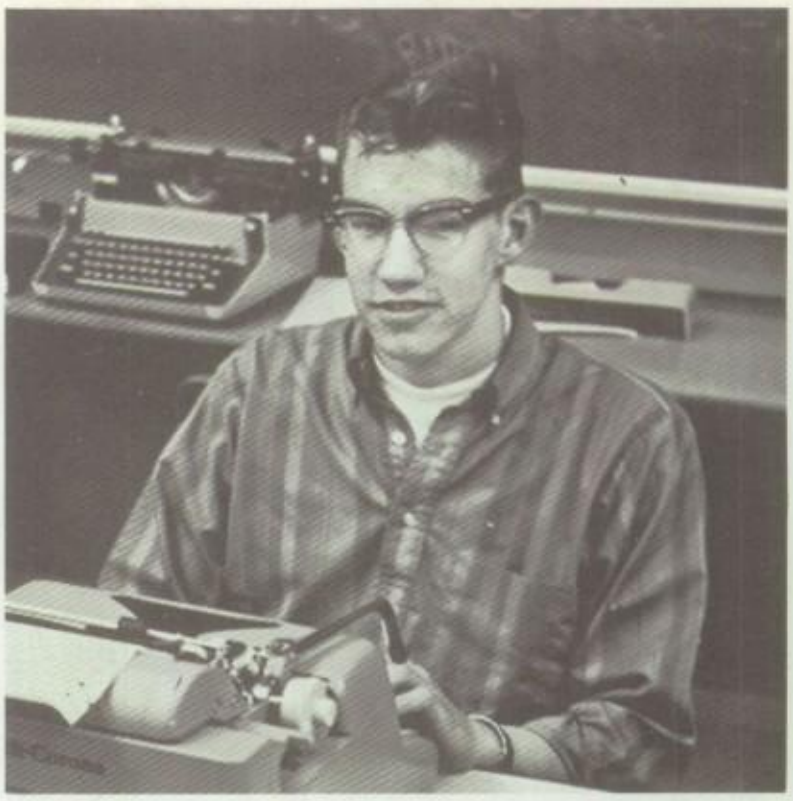
SENIORS BID FAREWELL to Western by creating a night of "Rhapsody in Blue." The dance was the climax of a successful year, and couples appeared dressed in their finest attire. A wonderland of blue greeted each Senior as he crossed the threshold of his last Senior activity. Mingled amid the sparkling light and bubbling gaiety were apparitions of a shining future for the class of '63. Thoughts were on the hard work and fun that had gone into the affair, but also, upon the many memories high school had given every Senior. The occasion was both sad and happy . . . both beautiful and memorable. As the golden crowns were placed upon the heads of the chosen King and Queen, Seniors felt a perfect year crowned in spectacle. A part of their lives faded as the Senior ball ended. There would be other dances and other memories in the future, but this ball, this year, would remain closest to their hearts. Its sounds and its silence would echo forever in their lives.

JUNIOR STUDENT Sandy Greer was honored this year by being chosen for the Foreign Exchange Program. She will carry our way of life to some foreign country. Her words, her very thoughts, will influence the thoughts of others concerning us. After her experience, we hope she will have a greater knowledge of the world and its ways, but most of all, a better understanding of the common bond between all people.



STEWART BELL was selected as a representative from Nevada in the National Society of Professional Engineers' civil engineering scholarship finals. His knowledge enabled him to win the regional and State contests, and he contended for one of the five scholarships to be awarded. In order to receive the honor, he must be active in school, score high on aptitude tests, and be of high moral character. The prize for the outstanding winners will be $750 each academic year of college.

Junior Prom Queen

JUNIORS HONORED the Senior Class at the annual Junior Prom this year. As soft starlight shone upon the dancefloor, couples climbed a shimmering "Stairway to the Stars." Their steps led them to a paradise decorated in deep blue and glistening silver. Enchanted couples stood aside to watch the sweetheart of the class crowned. Tarina gracefully moved forward for the coronation, and surely there were stars in her eyes as she felt the crown placed upon her head. The din of applause and music faded as the Queen realized the majesty of the moment. Her attendants and those watching all shared her joy and the evening became a heavenly interlude. All beautiful things must end, and yet, they can never quite be dissolved. So, the Junior Prom will remain as a stirring and starry moment amid a dazzling Junior year.

Had Season of Surprises, Heartbreaks

SURPRISE AND HEARTBREAK were much in evidence during Western's second season of varsity football when the Warriors staged one of the area's big comebacks by bagging seven victories against two losses. The defeats were by three points total. Coming after an 0-7 season in 1961, the campaign was considered to be an overwhelming success.

Western's surging Warriors came back to rewrite virtually every record in the books. Just to mention a few — most points scored 199, least points scored against 61, most points game 45 (against Boulder City), most shutouts 3.

There were plenty of reasons why but the one BIG one was a hungry football team, one which didn't let down during the entire year and one which the entire student body is extremely proud of despite its missing the state playoff due to a 14-12 loss to Rancho. Western's other defeat was a 13-12 setback to Brawley, Calif., in a non-conference game.

Much of the credit must go to head coach Larry Fromhart and his assistants, Mr. Del Foster and Mr. Carroll Johnston for their untiring efforts and ceaseless efforts to improve the ball club. But then hard work and considerable personal sacrifice was the keyword with all of the players.

A winning tradition has thus been established at Western, one which will continue to grow with future seasons of . . . sound and silence.

Head Coach

Seasonal Outlook

Western's track team had great hopes this year for improving on its fifth place finish in the State Meet at Elko last year. Although the Warriors only managed a first place and a fifth place at the state meet last year it came as a great surprise to everyone including the Epitaph staff. With a nucleus of the returning lettermen and fresh new talent coming up from the lower classes the Warriors' great expectations may come true.

Mr. Dean Funk
Assistant Coach

Had Great Hopes

UP AND OVER — Goes Jimmie Rodgers, Western's main threat in the pole vault.

MANAGERS — Skip Miller (left) and Rich Echols adjust high jump bar, one of many "behind-the-scenes" tasks they performed during busy track schedule.

Mr. Malcolm Jones
Assistant Coach

For First State Championship

CLEARING THE BAR — John Banks, big gun for Western in the high jump, goes over at 5-6 in practice.

ALL YOU GOT TO DO IS WHISTLE — Says Mitch Gainer as he scoots over a hurdle for the photographer on a windy March afternoon.

Varsity Golf

Mr. Henry Moore
Coach

Great Expectations

WESTERN'S DEFENDING Clark County golf champions looked forward to another victorious season in 1963 with great expectations. With practically all of last year's team back for the season, Coach Henery Moore hoped to better the '62 season's record of 8-0-2 and snare the league title for the second straight year in a row.

Spring Sports Programs

AS THE 1963 EPITAPH WENT TO PRESS, Western High School athletes were pushing successful spring sports campaigns on a number of fronts. In baseball, the Warriors bounced back from an opening loss to Needles, Calif., and then won four straight including three in Southern Conference competition to lead the circuit. In track, after a slow start, Western harriers tied Rancho 38½-38½ in the Las Vegas Relays and defeated defending state champion Las Vegas in the same meet. In bowling, Western keglers won the Boys' JV championship, held a two-point lead in Varsity competition and were third in Girls' Classification. In golf, Western linksmen matched a school winning record with 13 straight matches in which the team was undefeated after two wins and one tie in the first three '63 matches.

Baseball

WESTERN'S BASEBALL FORCES stormed back to take over the Southern Conference lead with a 3-0 record based on timely hitting and pitching. In three games, the Warriors piled up 30 runs against only two for opponents. Western built up a four-game winning streak also at the expense of Needles, Calif., with a revenge 4-1 triumph after dropping the opening game in the Golden State to this same team, 3-0.

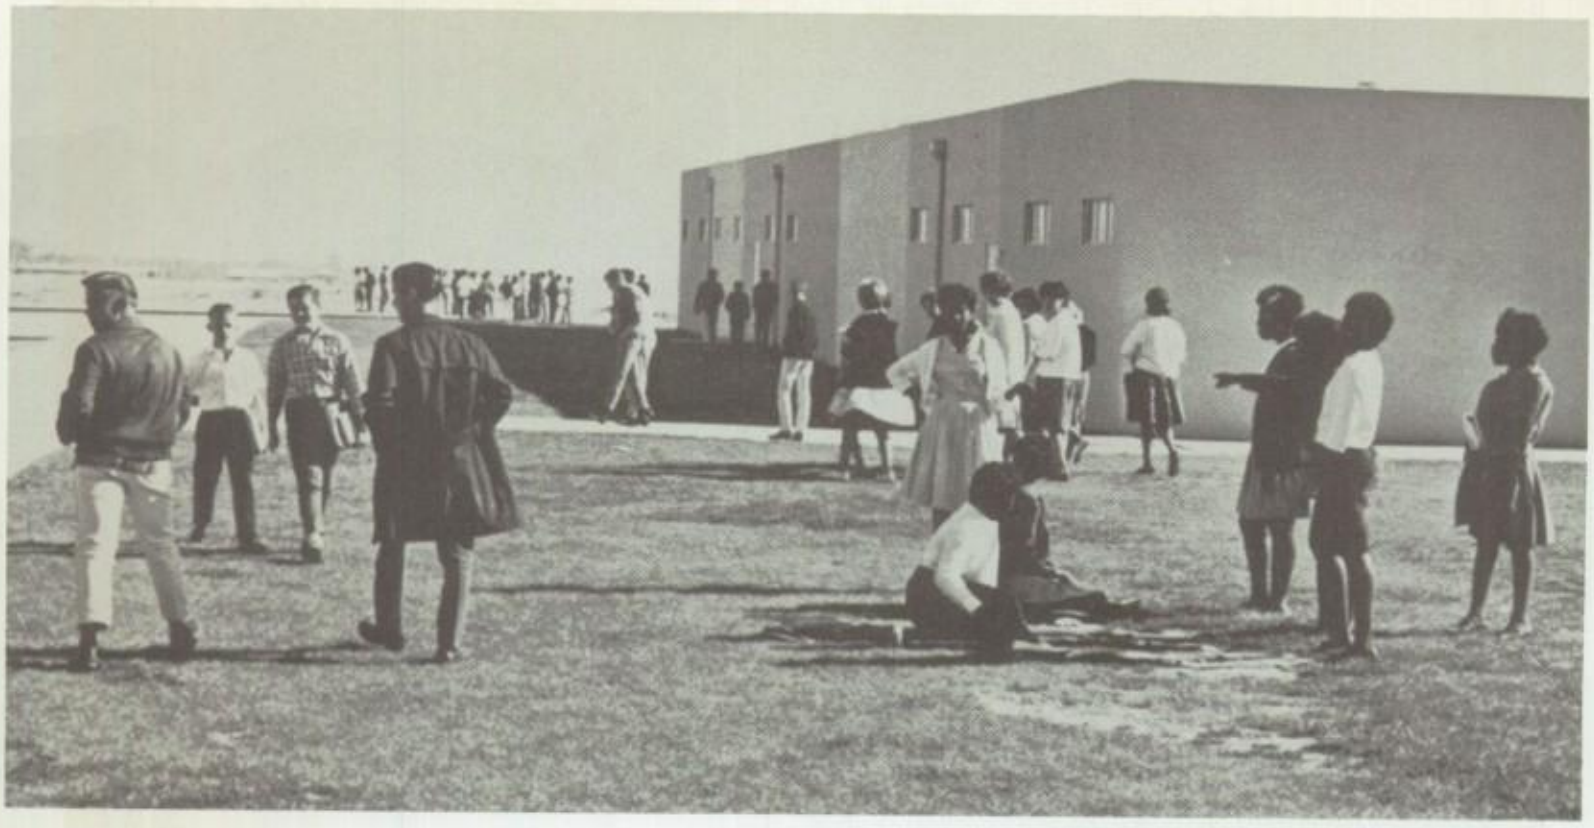
Assuming The Responsibility of Their First Year



DURING LUNCH — Scene above is typical view outside of front entrance "wall" during noon break where students were permitted to consume lunches. Many interesting friendships resulted from noon-time strolls and conversations held here . . . in sound and silence.

COMFORTABLE, BOYS? — Our camera catches typical "seating place" for freshmen during assembly programs in Western gymnasium — on floor. Conditions were slightly crowded, weren't they? Despite such inconveniences, everyone had enjoyable times in hearing and viewing variety of programs.

STUDY HARD! — Freshmen were introduced to Western's outstanding foreign language program by use of "lab" method of instruction which involves a keen appreciation of both listening and correct pronunciation of languages in different tongues other than our own. Most frosh students agreed, it was a lot of hard work but worth it in helping to master foreign languages.

Sara,
It's been good knowing you, & wish you the best of luck in the following years.

In Conclusion

THE THINKER

Back of the beating hammer
By which the steel is wrought,
Back of the workshop's clamor
The seeker may find the Thought —
The Thought that is ever master
Of iron and steam and steel,
That rises above disaster
And tramples it under heel!

The drudge may fret and tinker
Or labor with lusty blows,
But back of him stands the Thinker,
The clear-eyed man who knows;
For into each plow or saber,
Each piece and part and whole,
Must go the Brains of Labor,
Which gives the work a soul!

Back of the motors humming,
Back of the bells that sing,
Back of the hammers drumming,
Back of the cranes that swing,
There is the eye which scans them
Watching through stress and strain,
There is the Mind which plans them —
Back of the brawn, the Brain!

Might of the roaring boiler,
Force of the engine's thrust,
Strength of the sweating toiler —
Greatly in those we trust.
But back of them stands the Schemer,
The Thinker who drives things through;
Back of the Job — the Dreamer
Who's making the dream come true!
